General Housekeeping

The students have been working extremely hard this week-spring break will be here before we know it! Despite spring inching closer, we haven't kicked the cold weather yet. Please make sure your child is dressed appropriately for the weather outside!

New month at the end of this week means new website activities! Make sure to check it out!

Congratulations to our February VIPs for showing kindness this month: Micah and Kendra!

Reader's Workshop

This week students are reading different stories about people that made a difference in their communities. Students are working on skills like identifying text structure, point of view and central idea.

Math

The students are continuing their study of fractions this week as we work on comparing fractions with the same numerator and denominator. The students did very well on their mid-unit assessment last week.

Please continue to practice those multiplication facts at home.

Writing/ Grammar

The students began a new persuasive piece this week: should pets be allowed in schools? The students have had to read and use sources to support their details. We have also been practicing more response to literature writing.

In grammar this week, we are practicing identifying adverbs. Susie ran quickly down the sidewalk.

Social Studies

The students are learning more about the beginnings of how we became the United States of America this week, as we explore the difference between the thirteen original colonies, as well as the Revolutionary War.

Science

Students are beginning a new science unit this week, focusing on Life Cycles. This week they are learning about various life cycles of different organisms.

Happy Birthday!

We celebrated Hailey's half birthday last week and we are celebrating Addelynn's half birthday this week. Happy Half Birthday to you both!
